Landslide Buries Village In Haiti; 260 Persons Dead

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti — An estimated 260 persons were reported buried in a tremendous landslide that thundered down Tuesday on the remote mountain village of Berly, 20 miles south of here.

Capt. P. Burchett, head of the Inter-American Geodetic Survey, brought back word of the disaster Friday after landing at the site of the buried village in a helicopter.

He said the estimate of fatalities was based on reports by local police. They said the only survivors were a child who fled ahead of the rumbling earth slide and a woman visiting out of town.

A Red Cross party which hiked to the scene said only six houses still stood on Berly's outskirts. The rescue party had to travel 35 hours through fog-enshrouded, trackless mountains to reach the village.

Nixon Sees Link Of Communists And Democrats

BUTTE, Mont. — Vice President Nixon declared Friday night he has evidence the Communists are attempting to infiltrate the Democratic party to promote their interests.

Nixon, a former U. S. senator from California, said he possesses a "secret memorandum" to California Communist party leaders, directing them to "fight out the issues within the ranks of the Democratic party."

More Disclosures

He made the declaration before a theater audience of about 1,000 in Butte Friday night, one of several stops in this area on his campaign tour in support of Republican candidates.

Nixon was scheduled to leave Butte today for Worland and Cheyenne, Wyo., where he promised to make what he termed further disclosures in speeches today.

As far as the Republicans are concerned, Nixon asserted, the GOP "never has had the support of the Communist party and it does not have its support now and it will never accept it or have it in the future."

"There is no question," he said, "but that millions of loyal Democrats throughout the United States bitterly resent and will oppose this effort on the part of the Communists to infiltrate the Democratic party and to make its policies the policies of the Democratic party."

People Lose Confidence

But, he added:

"The 6,926 security risks which have been weeded out of the government service by the Eisenhower administration in the past 20 months are grim evidence that the American people were justified when they lost confidence in the previous administration's will or ability to deal with the Communist threat at home."

The Democratic administration of former President Truman, he said, "unfortunately adopted policies which were soft, vacillating and inconsistent in dealing with the Communist threat."

Nixon quoted his memorandum as stating:

"To unite a new political communist majority for 1954 and 1956, the recognition of the two-party system remains the form through which the overwhelming majority of the American people now express themselves in politics."

The landslides presumably resulted from floods in the wake of Hurricane Hazel. The fierce storm lashed Haiti last week before cutting a swath through the Eastern United States and Canada.

Incomplete figures early this week indicated the hurricane took at least 74 lives in the island. One report, unconfirmed by any official sources, said 200 children were lost at Peredo, near the southern port of Marigot, when a schoolhouse was swept away.

Chest X-rays Popular Here

More than 2,000 persons have reported for free chest x-rays at the State Health Department unit in Escanaba within the four days the unit has been operating, according to Miss Dorothy Jolly, x-ray technician. The total yesterday was 708.

The unit will continue at its Home Supply location in Escanaba at the following days and hours: Monday and Tuesday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, noon to 8 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Miss Jolly reported that a larger number of persons in the young housewife and older men group are availing themselves of the opportunity for chest x-rays this year. Some of the men inquire whether the chest x-ray will reveal lung cancer, indicating their concern from recent publicity regarding this disease.

The total for the four operating days of the unit in Escanaba was 2,261, which is above the average for previous years.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee Health district, reported that the total so far for the two x-ray units operating in the two counties is an average of 425 for the 14 unit days. The previous average was 375 per unit operating day.

Partridge Hunter Lost In The Woods North Of Powers.

POWERS—Except for wet feet, Mrs. Sanford K. Sweany of Powers, wife of the assistant medical director at Pinecrest Sanatorium, survived a nearly four-hour trek around the woods with no ill effects after being lost while bird hunting Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Sweany was found by Dr. Sweany at 8:15 p.m., about a half-mile off the road in the vicinity of Camp 3, nine miles north of Powers on the Big Cedar River road. The camp is owned by Dr. John W. Towey, Pinecrest superintendent and associates.

When Mrs. Sweany failed to return about 5 p.m., Dr. Sweany organized a search in which 20 volunteers took part. By the time she was found the search party had been expanded to 100 volunteers. Assisting in the search were Conservation Officers Herbert Lees, Menominee, and Gerald Welling, Hermansville.

A fire alarm siren, recently purchased by the Village of Powers, but not yet installed, was commandeered and taken to the Towey camp and placed atop the cabin. Persons in the search party report the siren could be heard for miles around.

Indian Summer Will Continue

Escanaba's Indian summer weather will continue strong until Monday, stretching the string of rainless days to eight, the longest dry spell since July.

A slight possibility for intermittent showers for late Sunday exists, but it is doubtful that the showers will get as far as Escanaba.

Yesterday's high of 60 will give way to temperatures of 65-70 today in areas away from the lake, dropping to 48 tonight. Night temperatures will become steadily cooler as the weekend progresses.

A mass of cool air in Canada is bottled up by high pressure at the present time, but as soon as it is free to move, the Indian summer will be replaced by cooler autumn weather.

Manistique State Police reported that the car driven by Dawn Johnson was traveling east on US-2 when it struck the rear of a car driven by Frank Kane, 41, Gulliver. Kane was traveling in the same direction as the Johnsons and he was making a left hand turn when he was struck.

The left front of the Johnson car and the rear of the Kane car were damaged. The car driven by Dawn Johnson is owned by Vernon Johnson, Rte. 1, Manistique.

Passengers in a car driven by Wilfred C. Brown, 216 S. 18th St., suffered minor injuries at 3:32 a.m. today in a collision between cars driven by Brown and James McNicoll, of Escanaba and Duluth that occurred at Ludington and 7th Sts.

Diocesan Goal For Shrine Is $20,000

Bishop Thomas L. Noa, has announced a drive to be held between Oct. 24 and Dec. 5 for completion of the diocesan quota of the funds required for construction of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception of Washington, D. C.

Last year contributions from the people of Marquette Diocese totaled $18,000.00. It is the aim of this year's effort to provide the $20,000 which is needed to fill the share of the diocese for the whole project.

The Marian Year begun last Dec. 8, was received by the people of the parishes throughout the Upper Peninsula as an opportunity to show loyal devotion to the Mother of God by special effort to forward completion of the National Shrine in Washington, D. C., which is dedicated to the Blessed Virgin under the title of the Immaculate Conception, Bishop Noa said.

This year, in the collection to be made on the Sunday of December 5 in all the churches of the Diocese, it is hoped that the end of the Marian Year will be marked by the completion of the quota set for

State Office Building Tentative Plans OK'd

The Escanaba Building Corporation yesterday approved preliminary plans for the state office building to be constructed in the 300 block of Ludington Street here and directed the architects, Arne and Walter Arntzen, to proceed with working drawings, plans and specifications.

The building will be 221 feet in length and the main office section will be 50 feet wide. One end of the building will have a lobby on the first floor and a hearing room on the second floor, slightly deeper and higher than the main office section.

The building is estimated to cost $312,000 and will have 25,000 square feet of space overall, with more than 19,000 square feet of office space. The northern exposure overlooking Bay de Noc will be predominately glass.

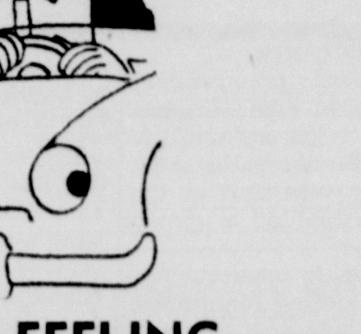

The City of Escanaba has authorized the use of $110,000 bequeathed by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas for a state office building for the purpose and has approved, subject to circuit court authorization, an additional $110,000 also bequeathed by Mrs. Bonifas for a combined city hall-court house. The remainder of the cost will be secured by other means of financing.

Rentals on the property will liquidate the indebtedness, including the funds advanced by the city which were earmarked for the combined city hall-court house.

The plans and specifications will be completed early in January and it is planned to ask for bids on the project late in January with construction tentatively scheduled to begin March 1. It will require about nine months to complete the building. Occupancy is anticipated about Jan. 1, 1956.

The building will be heated by the Diocese in the construction of the National Shrine.

CAN CHIROPRACTIC CURE ME?

The above is the first question asked me by almost every new patient who comes into my office. And—it is one of the most difficult questions to answer honestly. No doctor can say definitely that they can absolutely cure a person. In most cases I tell my patients that I feel chiropractic can help them but that there are many factors involved in improving their health.

The second question everyone asks is, "How long will it take me to get well?" The same factors which determine whether you will get well also play an important part in deciding the length of time it will take to get well. I would like to enlarge a little on these factors.

Secondly, we must consider the degree to which the disease has progressed. If the disease is mild, taken in its earlier stages, the recovery is more nearly assured than it would be in the later stages. If the person has been sick a long time and his reserve force does not come back readily, then usually the possibility for recovery is less. If recovery is possible it usually takes longer.

Where extensive surgery has been performed it is impossible to know whether any permanent damage has been done to the nerves. It is one thing beyond either the doctor's or the patient's control and only time will show to what extent recovery is possible in such cases.

The ability of the chiropractor is extremely important. He must first analyze the case correctly and then deliver the proper adjustment. X-rays are of great value in analyzing the misalignment.

Finally there is one factor which only the patient can control but without which no cure is possible. That is, time to allow recovery to take place. Too many times patients feel better and think they are well. But the doctor, with all of his experience, is the best judge. On the other hand, some patients feel no change after a few adjustments and stop coming, not realizing that it does take time, and lots of it in many instances.

So, you can see that no doctor can give a specific answer to these two questions when many of the factors are beyond his control. However, I can say, that in my years as a chiropractor I have found very few people who could not be helped by chiropractic.

Editorials—*Attorney General Brownell Busy Clearing Up Housing Scandal

THE ugly-mess housing scandal has been growing in size every day. And Attorney General Brownell has now taken concrete action to see that the parties who caused the mess will be swiftly hauled into court.

He has set up a special new unit in the Justice Department's criminal division to handle such cases exclusively. (The case-load has grown so big, he says, that the frauds division alone gets 10 or more new ones a day.)

Brownell will seek his indictments from a special federal grand jury panel, which was drawn at his own request and already has opened hearings. He has asked it to probe "specifically" the conduct of Clyde L. Powell, the ousted assistant commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration.

In a six-months investigation by the Senate Banking Committee, Powell has been under heavy fire. The committee developed testimony that he sought both bribes and loans from builders working on housing contracts, and he banked in a 10-year period, nearly three times his government salary.

On three different occasions, Powell refused to answer the charges by invoking the Fifth Amendment.

He has since tried to halt the grand jury probe on the grounds that it isn't legal. He calls it an outright "political" move made with the coming elections in mind—a plea that was quickly rejected by a judge of the District Court.

The fact remains, nevertheless, that the taxpaying U. S. public has been bilked of millions of dollars. There clearly was widespread corruption, and those who are thought to be guilty should be brought to trial at the earliest date—even if Brownell tries them on the Monday before election.

The biggest culprit of all, of course, can never be brought to trial. We refer to the government housing law which allowed this mess in the first place.

When FHA was created, there were serious national housing needs which demanded a flexible housing system. But the law by which it was born did not include adequate safeguards.

It permitted employees of FHA to use the widest discretion in doling out huge sums of money. It permitted private building promoters to invest a few thousand dollars and reap a "windfall" of millions—all in a way that was technically "legal."

Such a law invited corruption, and corruption is what it brought.

Can't Miss

MEMO to anybody who likes to plan vacations well in advance: by all means go to England next summer.

It seems that the British Sunbathing Association will be making a bid for new members during the hot months of 1955. And it may turn out to be barely exciting.

The BSA (not to be confused with the Boy Scouts of America) is going to work it this way:

"Flying squadrons" of pretty young girls dressed in Bikini bathing suits without tops will be taken to most of the popular bathing beaches during the summer months.

The idea: to collect crowds and rouse interest among prospective members of the association.

How can it miss? If pretty girls in snow-suits can promote beer, and pretty girls in evening gowns can promote cigarettes, then certainly pretty girls in hardly any clothes at all can promote sunshine and fresh air.

By next autumn the BSA (not to be confused with Button Society of America) ought to have a queue of eager, cheering, bare novitiates from Dover Beach to Cornwall waiting to join.

Two Ohio boys landed in the klink after throwing boiled eggs at a policeman. That's doing it the hard way.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

History records that in 1916, a young lieutenant just graduated from West Point, was summoned from his post at Fort Sam Houston to coach the football team of a nearby school. The coach, one Dwight D. Eisenhower, found the spirit there willing, but the material sparse. Desperately seeking reinforcements for the skimpy squad, he suddenly spotted a husky specimen crossing the campus. "Look here, young fellow," he called sharply. "Why aren't you out to play football?" The husky replied, "Lieutenant, I'll have you know I'm the principal of this school."

A hobo discovered through the years that doctors were comparatively soft touches, so his spirits rose when he saw a medico's stingle outside a door. A beautiful young lady answered his peep on the bell. The hobo wheezed, "Do you think the good doctor could find an old pair of pants for a fellow down on his luck?" The girl chuckled, and replied, "Quite possibly, but I doubt that they'd do you much good. You see, I happen to be the doctor."

The Bible and Home Life

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

In the heritage of Christianity from Judaism, the world owes the Jews a big debt, especially in their concept of the sanctity of home and family life.

It would be a mistake to underestimate the ties and responsibilities of family life among other peoples, as for instance among the Chinese. Urban and other conditions have greatly altered both the conditions and the problems of home life from what they were in rural and village communities, and in the small towns of the sort in which I was born.

Only those whose memories go back to the Victorian age can realize how great these changes have been. It wasn't so long ago that a Jewish father was lamenting to me the fact that so many of the younger generation had forsaken the old ways, and lost the sense of family ties and responsibilities.

However this may be, a great factor in the strength of the Jews historically, in spite of sufferings, persecutions, and tragedies, has been this attitude toward home and family life, and this goes far back into Jewish history and religion.

Christian teaching enforced all that Jesus and the disciples whom He gathered around Him had known in all that Jewish heritage that the Master said He had not come to destroy but to fulfill. Love in all the relationships of life is the supreme demand of Christ's teaching and example. Love in home and family life in the Christian conception is the only basis of happy and responsible living—love between husband and wife, love between parents and children.

All this is so obvious and elemental that to state it seems commonplace. But it is the commonplace things of life that are the most important, and too often neglected. Is there any area of life today in which the basic and commonplace things of Christian teaching are neglected, and set at naught, more than in this area of marriage, home, and family?

Even in so-called Christian lands the contrast between the ideal, the right, and the wholesome on the one hand, and the separations, divorces, the unhappy and broken homes, the virtually parentless children, and the juvenile delinquents on the other hand, is appalling.

Surely this is the greatest problem facing Christians and the Christian Church, as well as all who are concerned about the social welfare.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPmann

PARIS—Shortly before leaving Rome I had two walks which interested me very much.

One was with an official who is working on the plan for the economic development of Italy. Essentially it is a plan which calls for capital development designed to create productive jobs for the unemployed and the underemployed. The official argued his case with much force and eloquence.

But being an American, I was bound to wonder when he would get around to explaining the American contribution to the plan in the way of credits or grants in aid. He never did get around to that, and finally I asked him whether Italy would be able to execute the plan out of her own resources.

His answer threw much light, I think, on the underlying realities. "If this were a Communist government," he said, "it could carry out the plan without foreign assistance. It would be able to tax. It would be able to compel workers to accept temporarily less pay. It would dare to cut down consumption in all classes. It would form capital by forced savings. It would remove the displaced workers of obsolete industries to other regions. It would impose measures of agricultural improvement. It would be able to do all these things because it would not have to worry about the Chamber of Deputies and about elections and about newspapers and about being put out of office . . ."

DEMOCRACY NEEDS SUBSIDIES

"But," he went on to say, "the Democratic parties cannot do this even if they wanted to because they are not strong enough as governments to impose so much sacrifice upon the population. So in Italy which is a free country by a fairly narrow margin, democracy requires subsidies from abroad. It needs them to make up the difference between what can be done by democratic consent and what needs to be done in order to solve economic and social problems."

Footsteps Before And After Prayer

"COME TO ME, ALL OF YOU WHO TOIL AND ARE BURDENED, AND I WILL LET YOU REST. LET MY YOKE BE PUT UPON YOU, AND LEARN FROM ME, FOR I AM GENTLE AND HUMBLE-MINDED, AND YOUR HEARTS WILL FIND REST, FOR THE YOKE I OFFER YOU IS A KINDLY ONE, AND THE LOAD I ASK YOU TO BEAR IS LIGHT."

Pennsylvania Grandmother, 48, Million Dollar Home Builder

By JAMES F. HAUGHTON

HORSHAM, Pa.—(NEA)—Until four years ago, Mrs. Edith Friedman still keeps her five children in mind as she moves about the new community. The firm she heads is named after her youngest son, Roger, 8, and several of the development streets are named for her children.

But today the slim, 48-year-old grandmother is working 16 hours a day planning, directing and selling ranch homes in a 138-unit development here valued at 1,800,000. Only recently she completed a $1,400,000 development of 108 homes a few miles away.

The urge to enter the construction business began several years ago, Mrs. Friedman said, but it wasn't until 1950 that she decided to take the big step. A family friend who was an engineer offered to provide initial counseling. But from the beginning she has directed and supervised all details of both projects.

Mrs. Friedman said that talking with thousands of visitors at sample homes has convinced her that while the men pay the bills, "it's the wife who buys the family home." The husband generally turns to his wife when it comes time to make the final decision on purchasing a house.

In principle it is clear, it seems to me, that democracies cannot permit totalitarian parties to enjoy civil rights and to win elections and then, having taken over power, to abolish elections and civil rights. If the Italian Democratic parties have really decided not to surrender the state, they have in principle taken the right decision.

But the danger of a Fascist reaction lies in the chance that the Democratic parties may be too weak and confused to carry out the measures of resistance, that these measures would be carried out furtively, so to speak shamefacedly. With weak Democratic government there is a great danger that the Democrats would simply be pushed aside, would abdicate their responsibilities, and would leave the dirty work to be done by a minority. If that is so, the great question arises as to whether the basic decision should not now be brought into the open, and publicly declared and its principle openly discussed and vindicated.

The question of principle is whether a free and Democratic state has the right to allow institutions to be used by totalitarian parties to destroy freedom and democracy.

2. Plenty of space for youngsters to stretch their legs and for parents to relax and enjoy themselves.

3. A home without stairs because as people get older they acquire ailments and dislike the physical effort required in walking steps.

4. A large basement providing adequate storage space, recreational facilities and room for the new hobbies American men are developing.

As for the ladies, Mrs. Friedman believes they want a home with a touch of glamour—a point she contends many male builders fail to consider. She has discovered that women like such extras as a large bay window in the living room and a choice of tile colors in the kitchen or bathroom.

Although a busy executive, Mrs. Friedman still keeps her five children in mind as she moves about the new community. The firm she heads is named after her youngest son, Roger, 8, and several of the development streets are named for her children.

The only woman member of the Philadelphia Home Builders Association, she thought that men would resent her membership in the select group, "but they make a wonderful fuss over me."

She finds the same response in dealing with men on the job. "It's a good thing you are a woman," a carpenter told her. "You ask me to do things I wouldn't do for a man—and I do them," he added.

In principle it is clear, it seems to me, that democracies cannot permit totalitarian parties to enjoy civil rights and to win elections and then, having taken over power, to abolish elections and civil rights. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fillis, 318 N. 13th St., wore a gown of white nylon lace and net over bridal satin. The lace bodice was detailed with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves tapering at the wrist. The skirt of a double layer of net over satin had matching lace inserts. The bride's veil of handwoven Belgian lace, a family heirloom, was caught up in a lace cap studded with rhinestones. She carried white baby mums and pink roses, cascading with showers.

Sister, Honor Attendant

The bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Bushey, was matron of honor. Her gown of mint green, was designed with a nylon lace bodice and a waltz length skirt of net over satin. Her flowers were yellow poms in a colonial arrangement. A like gown of yellow was worn by Miss Margaret Seguin the bridegroom's sister, who was bridesmaid. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze poms. Their flower headaddresses matched their bouquets.

A frock of white nylon net with puffed sleeves and a skirt of ruffles was worn by little Susan Bushey, the bride's niece, who was flower girl. White mums were in the basket she carried. The rings were carried by John Moyle, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moyle of Escanaba.

Norman Seguin served as best man for his brother. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Seguin, Gladstone Route 1. Pierre Brown of Detroit, cousin of the bride, was groomsman.

A beige dress with black accessories was the choice of the bride's mother for the wedding. Lavendar poms were in her corsage. Mrs. Seguin wore a purple ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of white and lavender poms.

Evening Reception

The reception from 5 to 10 this evening will be held at the UCT Club with Miss Donna Berthiaume, Miss Betsy Rogers and Miss Nancy Fillis assisting in serving. Decorations will combine fall flowers and the color theme of the wedding.

The newlyweds will live in Gladstone Rte. 1 when they return from their honeymoon. Both are graduates of Escanaba Senior High School.

For going-away the bride has selected a navy blue suit and red accessories.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Yochum of Mount Clemens, Mrs. Delphine Brown and sons Gary and Pierre, Detroit, Staff Revers and Louis Bertels, Ironwood, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bertels, Northland, Edna Seguin, Helen Karpo and Cleo Stoves of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bushey of Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fillis and family of Ralph.

Slander Suits Called Blunder

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Langer (R-Ind.) said today the Arkansas Power & Light Co. "made a major blunder" in filing a two million dollar slander suit against a witness in a Senate investigation of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

Langer, chairman of a Senate antitrust subcommittee carrying on the probe, told a newsman a "Wall Street crowd" prompted the filing of the suit in Little Rock "with the clear intent of intimidation" of witnesses critical of the proposed contract, which has become an issue in the current political campaign. Langer did not spell out who he meant by the term "Wall Street crowd."

The North Dakota Republican predicted that public reaction to the suit will be swift and negative.

Defendant in the slander suit is Arthur E. McLean, a little Rock banker who told the Langer subcommittee Thursday that Arkansas Power was "the most corrupt and ruthless corporation that ever operated within the bounds of the state."

Arkansas Power officials indicated the suit—which accuses the banker of making "malicious, false and slanderous statements" about AP&L—is not based on McLean's Senate testimony, which is privileged, but on his past statements in a years long feud with the company.

Ford And Chevrolet Set For Sales Race

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Auto Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The world's two largest auto makers—Chevrolet and Ford—will have their new models on the market within the next three weeks and one of the industry's keenest sales battles will get under way.

Chevrolet with a new V-8 engine developing near 180 horsepower, already has shipped 1955 models to dealers. The cars are scheduled to go on sale late next week. Ford, currently changing over to 1955 model output, is aiming at Nov. 12 as its public introduction date.

Like Pontiac, also scheduled for public presentation next week, the 1955 Chevrolet has been completely redesigned.

Ford, which has been see-sawing with Chevrolet for production and sales leadership this year, has kept its model changes more closely guarded even than Chevrolet. It can be said, however, that numerous styling changes have been incorporated.

The price tags Chevrolet will announce with its new models have more than ordinary significance this year. There has been widespread speculation about prices, particularly because price cutting at the dealer level was quite common. Many retailers said they had to reduce prices to make sales.

But this year again Chevrolet is in the position of virtually having to set the price pattern for the so-called lower price field. And the Chevrolet prices will be set and announced before Ford begins to ship 1955 models in any substantial volume to its retailers.

Will Stock Trout In Linnbeck Lake Near Menominee

MENOMINEE — Menominee County's Linnbeck Lake, which was opened to public fishing when the county road commission constructed a road to the lake in 1953, has been treated for the removal of all fish and will be restocked with legal size brook trout this fall. Florin Warren, Conservation Department fish supervisor of Crystal Falls, reported today.

Linnbeck Lake, a mile and a half northwest of Swanson in Holmes township, is one of those lakes which is more suitable for the production of trout than warmwater fish and for that reason the lake was treated for removal of all fish, Warren said.

A barrier dam has been constructed at the outlet to prevent further entry of warmwater species from the Shakey River. Species of warmwater fish and rough fish removed from the lake included largemouth black bass, northern pike, bluegills, pumpkinseed, sunfish, perch, crappies, rock bass, bullheads and several species of minnows.

Linnbeck will be open for fishing on the opening of the 1955 trout season. Fishermen are requested to observe the regulation that minnows may not be used for bait so the lake will not become polluted with undesirable species.

Check On Heating Systems Early Will Pay Dividends

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER

AP Real Estate Editor

Clipping coupons isn't always the privilege of only rich old bond holders. We householders can clip a few right now from our forthcoming winter fuel bills and heating plant repairs by getting a seasonal checkup for the old firebox, the same as we do for the family jalopy.

R. E. Ferry, who is general manager of the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers, known as the IBR, was telling us the other day that many homeowners give their heating plants scarcely a fraction of the care they bestow on their automobiles.

"Home heating systems," he said, "are commonly operated throughout the fall, winter and spring months without servicing or checkup. This is roughly comparable to running a car continuously at 30 miles per hour for 30,000 miles without servicing of any kind—something no sane car owner would attempt."

"Since most autos are serviced every 3,000 to 4,000 miles, this means they're looked after about eight or ten times as often as the home heating plant. And the modern furnace also is a highly engineered complex of parts and machinery."

Of course, he's right. Most home heating systems include electric motors, burners or stokers, safety devices, pumps and other automatic equipment, which deserves a periodical going over by skilled technicians.

"When neglected," Ferry added, "even the finest systems can break down and become costly to operate. Even a forced hot water baseboard system, which I consider the lowest of all in operating costs, should have a checkup. Excessive fuel costs result when such equipment as boilers, burners or chimneys have not been cleaned at least once a year."

However, with some heating plants there's a lot you can do yourself to prepare for another season. Take a circulating warm air system for example. Summer dust which has settled in registers—both warm air and cold air return registers—can be prevented from fluffing through your house by doing a little vacuum cleaning. (This applies to radiators and conectors, too.)

If you don't think any dust accumulates in registers, try leaving a mahogany table undusted all summer long and see how much of a layer of dust and grime you'll find. The same layer settles every place. Sheldon Coleman, the Wichita, Kans., manufacturer of high speed heating plants, argues that it is merely good housekeeping to clean registers before the opening of a new heating season.

"Today's filters are very efficient, trapping upwards of 85 percent of the dust and dirt circulated through the air. But because they are so efficient, they get pretty dirty. Take them out in the back yard. Put on a pair of gloves to protect your hands from glass slivers, and tap them with a stick to get rid of the loose surface dirt. Then remove the dirt from within the filter proper with your vacuum cleaner."

Most filters are so cheap nowadays you might find it simpler to throw them away and buy new ones. We commented on this some time ago, observing that you can

New Twist Nail Holds Siding To Gypsum Sheathing

By EDWARD S. KITCH
AP Newsmen

CHICAGO — The application of asphalt insulating siding requires the right nail in the right place.

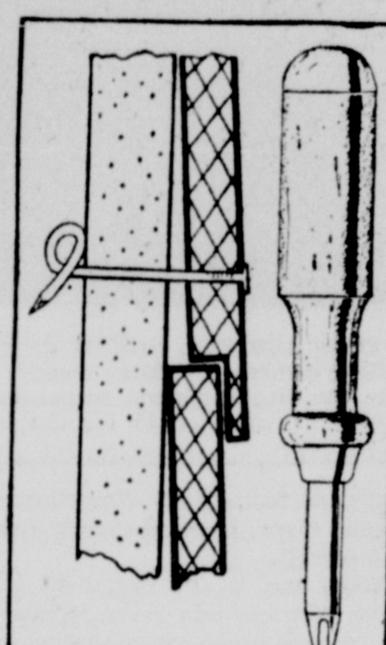

There are electro-plated copper twist, black painted galvanized and aluminum nails. There are colored nails to match any color insulating siding available.

A good job depends on their proper use.

The 2 1/4-inch, 11 1/2-gauge black or colored nail is used at studs only. Black painted galvanized or electro-plated copper twist nails secure points between studs.

The twist nail, designed for new construction, must be clinched like a pig's tail on the back side of fiber board or gypsum board sheathing.

Doing the job properly requires a special twist, or clinching tool that doubles the nail in a loop on the inside. It is made from 3/8-inch diameter, cold rolled steel rod, slotted at one end and inserted in a wood handle.

TWIST NAIL and twisting tool—showing how nail is twisted behind fiber or gypsum sheathing to hold insulating siding tight to the wall.

Nails used to secure insulating board to wood sheathing should be hot dipped galvanized, minimum size 1 1/4 inches and 13 gauge, 1/4-inch head.

When 5/16-inch plywood is used for sheathing, nails should be the barbed type. When putting on corner pieces use 2-inch nails.

The minimum construction requirements by FHA for sheathing paper and vapor barrier materials inside the wall when using insulating siding are available in Materials Bulletin 12 from the U. S. Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Two-Tone Walls Are Made Easy By Matching Tape

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsmen

Color matching in the form of stripes is easy. An odd piece of furniture or a play floor in the basement is often improved by striped effects.

Before you do your striping you'll need to clean the surface to be painted. Then apply the base color of the paint. When dry strip the tape on it to form each outside edge of a stripe. Press the tape firmly in place, to prevent seepage, and paint your stripe, covering the inside edge of both lengths of tape. When the inner paint has set remove both tape strips and you should have a good straight stripe.

Masking tape should not be applied to wallboard or soft-

John A. Lemmer School Will Be Latest Word In School Design

FRONT OF NEW SCHOOL — The very newest in school architecture is that of the John A. Lemmer grade school now being built at 20th street south between Sixth and Eighth avenues. To the immediate left is the kindergarten room. The main entrance

By JAMES R. LOWELL
America has come a long way since the time the little red school house actually typified the nation's elementary processes of learning.

The jerry-built one-room structures that were once so fundamental in the rural American scheme of things served their purpose well, according to the educational standards and requirements of the time. But where they exist today, they are not pointed to with pride. Rather, they serve now to indicate the backwardness of the regions in which they are located.

Good roads, bus transportation along with more and more exacting educational standards have had a remarkable effect upon schools of urban districts. The public demands the best for its children, and school architecture is keeping pace with the trend.

New School An Example

The John A. Lemmer elementary school, now under construction at 20th street between 6 and 8th Avenues south, is an outstanding example of the new trend in school buildings and facilities.

Thanks to a generous bequest by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, supplementing funds received from a bond issue, the Escanaba Board of Education has been in position to demand something extra special and the new school, when completed, will serve as an example of what the very latest and best in schools should be.

Although still in the process of construction, the super-structure is practically completed and the general idea of what it is to be is impressive.

Startlingly Different

The change from conventional type of school building to this one is startling. To one accustomed to school structures of two or three stories, imposing facades and awesome presence, the change to a sprawling one-story building seems almost revolutionary — and it is in a benevolent sense of the word. The reverse slope of the roofs, the deeply recessed porches segmented by sturdy brick walls and the unbelievable amount of space devoted to windows are bewildering to those confronted with the change. But all these changes are for a definite purpose.

Some idea of the size of the new building may be had from the figures supplied by Perkins & Will, of Chicago, the architects. The structure, built in the form of a "T", is 242 feet from the north tip of the cross arm to the tip at the south, and 275 feet from east to west. It has a complete outside dimension of 1,200 feet. Grade classrooms from second grade up and for the ungraded students are all of uniform size, 28x38 feet. The kindergarten and first grade rooms are slightly larger, the former being 28x30 feet and the latter 28x40 feet.

Also included in the general plan are numerous other rooms such as hallways, the reception room, the principal's office, the teachers' room, an all purpose room with stage, adjoining kitchen and the boiler room.

Low Ceilings

Another feature, in sharp contrast with school buildings of the past, is the low ceilings of the classrooms. Whereas the average height of classrooms used to be about 12 feet — seldom less — those in the new school average 8.2 feet. High ceilinged rooms were considered less apt to get stuffy, but now, with ventilation and heat scientifically regulated, this is no longer a problem.

"Children don't like high-ceilinged rooms. The height awed them . . . made them feel insignificant," says R. McKenzie, superintendent of construction. He adds that the processes of a child's mind and his attitudes to surroundings are taken very seriously.

LOTS OF WINDOWS — Plenty of daylight, well regulated, is assured by the great amount of window space built into the new John Lemmer Grade School. The wing in the right foreground shows the part designated for the first grade. In the distance, extending to the left are some of the upper grade rooms. The portion shown faces the south.

ly into consideration in the modern science of school construction.

Color schemes of the rooms are also being given more consideration, he states, and for that reason the contractors are taking the responsibility for the colors and tints on the walls of the school rooms. The colors will be cheerful and impart a homely atmosphere.

Also interesting is the fact that there is an almost entire absence of stairways in the building. The approaches to the building will be level with its floor and in no place in the classroom section is there any stairway. A ramp connects the main hallway with the all-purpose room and from this latter room there is a short stairway leading to the boiler room.

Lots Of Light

The most attractive among the classrooms will be the kindergarten and first grade rooms. These rooms will have plenty of space for extra tables and other incidentals necessary for the proper development of the young child. Windows almost entirely cover the walls on two sides of each room.

Each of these two rooms also has its own bath and toilet and has two exits — one leading to the general hallway and the other directly to the outdoors. The exterior doors lead to deeply recessed porches where the children may play when the weather is inclement.

Many improvements are to be installed in the room for ungraded students. In addition to the regular study room is a well equipped room for physical therapy treatment and a bath and toilet room much more ample in size than that provided in other rooms. This room also will have an exit of its own to the out of doors. However, children in this room will be encouraged to, as much as possible, fraternize with the children of the other rooms.

The grade rooms, all uniform in size and general arrangement, will differ only in such items as color scheme, room decorations and requirements for each separate age group. There will be steel clothes cabinets of locker type in the hallways in front of each room. Along the entrance wall within each room will be work cabinets, book cabinets, sink, water cooler etc. Each room will also have its own toilet. Acoustical tile will be on the walls and ceiling and windows will occupy space of almost one entire wall. The desks will be in blond finish and green chalkboard will be on the walls.

Attractive All Purpose Room

The all purpose room, the only high ceilinged room in the building, will serve primarily as an auditorium for community gatherings and for general assembly purposes. It will also be used as a lunch room. There will be a well equipped kitchen next to it. At

MAIL TRAILER — Using a specially designed carrier for his mail delivery, J. Alton Mailmann, 316 South 16th St., is finding his chore much easier. The carrier is somewhat like the carts used in supermarket groceries except it is on two wheels. Thought not necessarily new, it is an innovation in mail delivery in these parts.

New Meaning Given To Word 'Contiguous'

Webster defines the word "contiguous" as "in actual contact; touching; also, near, though not in contact; adjoining."

The Founding Fathers of Michigan in adopting the State Constitution used the word "contiguous" in requiring that when two or more counties are linked in a legislative district, the district must consist of "convenient and contiguous territory."

For years the House of Representatives in the State Legislature of Lansing consisted of 100 members and for years the Legislature ignored the Constitutional mandate to reapportion the legislative (and senatorial) districts after each Federal (10 year) census. Ignoring the mandate let the balance between population and representation get farther out of kilter.

This had been particularly true since World War I started the farm-to-city trend and the automotive industry, centered in Detroit and southeastern Michigan, drew people by the thousands to those industrial centers. Prior to 1952, Detroit and Wayne County had one-third of the State's population but only 17 per cent of its legislative representation.

Ask More Seats

Detroit and the other populous areas of Michigan howled loud and long for more seats in the House of Representatives and the State Senate. The out-state areas, jealous of their legislative prerogatives, stalled most attempts to re-apportion by legislative enactment until public sentiment forced the issue to the polls in November, 1952, under a constitutional amendment which carried by an overwhelming majority of a half-million votes.

The amendment revised the seating capacity of both houses, upping the State Senate from 32 to 34 members and increasing the House of Representatives from 100 to "not more than 110 members." The Legislature then sat down to carry out the provisions of the 1952 constitutional amendment. The two Senate and the 10 Representative seats went to the Detroit and southeastern Michigan areas, but it still took some juggling of legislative boundary lines and populations to equalize in some degree the ratio between population and representation.

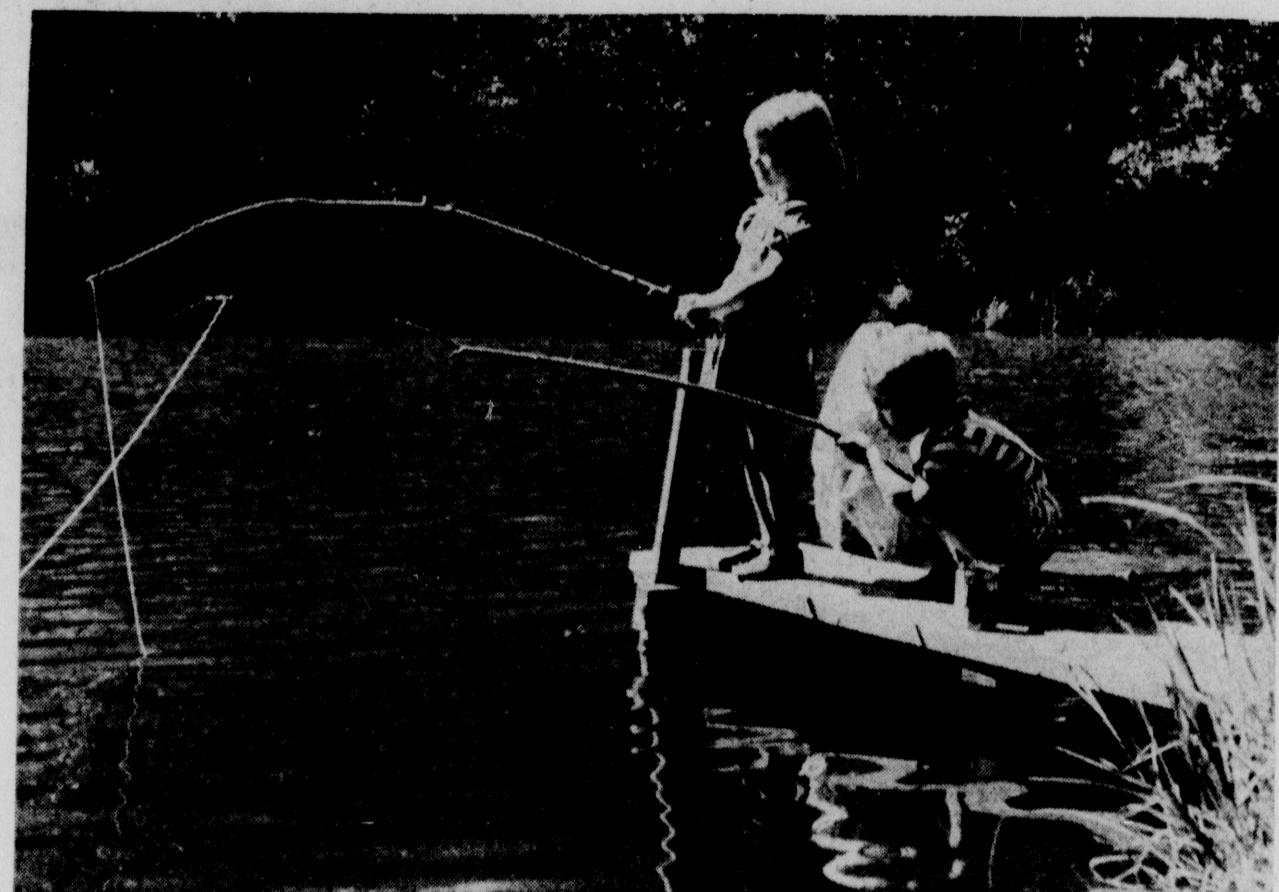

As the jig-saw puzzle was finally worked out, the 15 counties north of the Straits lost one member of the House of Representatives but kept intact the three U. P. senatorial districts.

Three Counties Districts

Prior to this reapportionment, U. P. had eight House of Representatives districts. Only three of the counties, however, had been large enough in population to constitute a single district by itself. They were Chippewa (Sault), Delta (Escanaba) and Marquette. Four other districts consisted of two counties each and one district had four counties.

The two-county districts were Menominee and Dickinson; Gogebic and Ontonagon; Houghton and Keweenaw; Iron and Baraga;

Rock Couple Returns From Trip To Finland

ROCK — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wiinikka of Rock who recently returned from their trip to Finland, are happy that they had the opportunity to visit relatives abroad whom they haven't seen for 41 years. Especially touching was the reunion of Mr. Wiinikka and his 90 year old mother.

His mother is still in good health and is still living in Lepua, the birthplace of Mr. Wiinikka. They also visited many other relatives and received a very warm welcome everywhere they visited.

Among other places they traveled include Helsinki, Tampere, Pori, Ikaalinen, Kulovesi and Jamsankoski. They traveled by railroad and bus.

They were disappointed with the weather because this was such a wet summer in Finland. It rained almost every day and consequently they were unable to travel as much as they would have preferred.

They left Detroit on June 15th and traveled by plane, stopping in Newfoundland, Glasgow, Hamburg and Denmark, arriving in Helsinki at 11:30 p. m., twenty-four hours after leaving Detroit.

It was quite a difference in travel time from his first trip to America 41 years ago when it took 18 days to come by ship from Helsinki to Duluth.

Of the 82 passengers on the plane, 32 were going to Finland.

Impressions Of Finland

Their first impression of Finland after so many years was like a dream. It seemed strange to hear the Finnish language spoken by young people and children. It also seemed a little difficult to understand at first, being somewhat different from the Americanized Finnish as spoken by the Finnish people here. However, most of the young people can speak English in the schools, as well as several other foreign languages.

With the separation of Alger and Schoolcraft from the old Alger District, this left Mackinac and Luce orphaned. But the Legislature had a ready answer for that. The two counties were simply tucked on to Chippewa County. In this respect, at least, the Legislature hewed to the strictest interpretation of Mr. Webster's definition of "contiguous." The three counties are "in actual contact."

4 Found Guilty Of Headlighting

Four Delta county men were found guilty of a charge of headlighting deer following jury trial in the justice court of A. T. Sohlberg here Friday.

The defendants are three brothers, Antone, William and Edward Maubar of Ensign, Route 1, and Stanley Dominic Gladstone, a brother-in-law of the others.

Each of the four was fined $50 and assessed court costs of $11.05.

Forming the jury which heard the case were Milton Damitz, Fred Cowen, Swan Widar, Walter Boucher, Myron Goodman and Marvin Larsen.

The men were arrested several weeks ago by Conservation Officer Glenn Price of Gladstone and Robert Bezz of Rapid River.

Officers testified to having watched the auto of the quartet go down a road at Ensign, stop at a field, heard two shots fired, checking the license of the car as it returned, of stopping the auto but finding no gun. They then went to the point where they had observed the auto stop and found two empty cartridges on the road and a rifle hidden in a wood pile in the field. The state crime laboratory at Lansing made a ballistics check and certified the two cases had been fired in the gun found hidden.

CONCERNING HOLD-UP PLAYS

The essential purpose of a hold-up play is the breaking of communications from one defender's hand to the other. The play should not be used when (a) declarer has plenty of tricks for his contract, and (b) when a possible throw-in play is visible.

Consider this typical deal from a match-point game:

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

N	W E	♦ 8 5 2	♦ 9 5 4

This was the bidding at one table:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT	Pass

North's second-round bid of two clubs was over-conservative. Surely his hand merited something better than a mere preference between hearts and clubs, and so a jump preference of three clubs, though slightly shaded, was distinctly the lesser of evils.

As may be seen, six clubs would have been a laydown, merely through finding the spade ace right. Even if it had been in West's hand, over the king, the slam still might have been worked out via a favorable break in hearts or a favorable diamond break. However, South found himself in

Archie Cowen Injured In Fall

City Commissioner Archie Cowen, carman for the Soo Line railroad, was painfully but not seriously injured this week when he fell from a car of pulpwood after making an inspection of it in the local yard.

Cowen was coming down the side of the car when a piece of pulpwood he had grasped for support proved rotten and broke, causing him to fall. He landed either on the track or ties and was painfully bruised. He also sustained a broken bone in the left foot.

Knocked unconscious, he fortunately was observed by a fellow workman, who obtained assistance for the injured man.

Cowen's left foot is in a cast and he will probably be off the job for five to six weeks.

Motorist Lies Injured 2 Days

COCHRAN, Ga. (AP) — A 61-year-old salesman, both arms and a leg broken, was found alive in the wreckage of his automobile two days after it hurtled from a highway embankment over the top of trees into thick underbrush.

An unidentified Negro discovered M. E. Ballard of Monticello, Ga., in almost impassable undergrowth by U. S. 23 four miles south of here Thursday.

Ballard, weakened by his injuries and two nights of exposure in near freezing weather, was hurried to a Macon Hospital where his condition was pronounced serious.

Deputy Sheriff Cecil Horton reported that trees along the embankment where the car careened off the highway were undamaged.

Persons living nearby reported they heard a noise and saw a cloud of dust Tuesday but were unable to find any evidence of a crash. Horton said the thicket in which the car came to rest concealed the machine from view along the much-traveled highway.

Members of Ballard's family had reported him missing, and state troopers had been looking for him.

Achievement Award Given Dr. Oppenheimer For Atom Bomb Work

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer has received the Pyramid Club of Philadelphia's achievement award for "unstinting devotion of his own great gifts to the end of increasing man's knowledge."

Oppenheimer, head of the Institute for Advanced Science at Princeton, N. J., and credited with playing a major role in developing the atomic bomb, received the award Thursday night. He said it reaffirms "that spirit of human brotherhood that is the hope of today's world."

Dr. Albert Einstein commended the club for honoring his colleague "in recognition of his exemplary conduct as a citizen of his country."

Earlier this year the Atomic Energy Commission ruled that Oppenheimer was a loyal American but denied him security clearance on grounds he had associated with individuals of questionable loyalty.

The Pyramid Club is a social and civic organization of prominent Philadelphia Negroes.

Michigan Candidates For Governor Both Boost Conservation

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP) — The two nominees for governor, between whom the people will choose on Nov. 2, recognize the importance of the administration of Michigan's natural resources. They have prepared statements of their positions especially for this column.

The statements of Gov. G. Men-Williams, Democrat, and Donald S. Leonard, Republican, follow:

Leonard:

Good conservation practices don't "just happen"—they are the result of the sincere devotion and effort of Michigan citizens who take pride in our great outdoors.

Years ago, the people of Michigan, rebelling at one-man control of the Conservation Department, set up a commission to determine

Illinois U. Will Pick New President At Meeting Oct. 27

CHICAGO (AP) — Chairman Herbert Megran of the University of Illinois Board of Trustees says a successor to university President Lloyd Morey may be selected Oct. 27.

The board will meet in Champaign at that time.

Chairman Megran also said that David Dodds Henry, executive vice chancellor of New York University, is named on a list of four or five prospects recommended by a faculty committee.

Two Chicago newspapers said that Henry may be selected as the new president. The Chicago Tribune said Henry, 49, "may be elected." The Chicago Sun-Times said "All but one or two members of the Board of Trustees are reported ready to vote for him."

The Sun-Times said Henry is the only candidate for the post who had been invited to meet with the trustees.

Henry was president of Wayne University at Detroit from 1945 to 1952. He was an English teacher at Wayne for 17 years. He was born at McKeesport, Pa.

Killed By Train

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Mrs. Hazel L. Russell, 67, of Augusta, was killed Thursday when she was struck by a Michigan Central train at a downtown crossing.

The change was suggested by Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee of York, Pa., vice president of the laymen's Brotherhood of St. Andrew. He said the almost universally used phrase "and lead us not into temptation" should be revised to read "let us not fall when tempted," arguing that the present wording is wrong "since no Christian can expect to be spared temptation; but instead the strength should be resisted."

The Resolutions Committee ruled the proposed revision would be inappropriate action for the synod to take.

Change Favored In Lord's Prayer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A meeting of Middle Atlantic Episcopal Church leaders has ended with no action taken on a proposal to change the wording in the Lord's Prayer.

The proposal did not come to a vote Thursday in the closing session of the 25th synod of the Episcopal Church Province of Washington.

The change was suggested by Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee of York, Pa., vice president of the laymen's Brotherhood of St. Andrew. He said the almost universally used phrase "and lead us not into temptation" should be revised to read "let us not fall when tempted," arguing that the present wording is wrong "since no Christian can expect to be spared temptation; but instead the strength should be resisted."

The Resolutions Committee ruled the proposed revision would be inappropriate action for the synod to take.

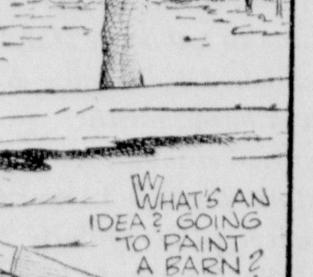

Some men are real sure they are right until the time comes to back their opinion with real money.

Mueller Dedicates Town Hall Tonight

Mueller township's new town hall and community center, authorized in a special election Sept. 28, 1953, will be dedicated tonight with William J. Sheahan, Schoolcraft county prosecuting attorney, giving the principal speech.

A harvest supper, with proceeds earmarked for school hot lunch, will be served at the school tonight, preceding the dedication at 7:30. A free dance with the Pine River boys of Grand Rapids furnishing hill-billy music will follow the dedication ceremony in the new hall and free coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Sportsmen Vote To Leave MUCC

A resolution to withdraw from the Michigan United Conservation clubs and affiliate with the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's association was unanimously adopted Thursday night by the Schoolcraft county Sportsmen's club.

The motion was made by Earl Cox and was supported by Edward Jorgenson. Decision on the club's affiliation had been deferred sometime to permit full discussion and attendance of interested persons at the meeting.

The Schoolcraft club was affiliated with the Northern Michigan group until it joined the MUCC about five years ago. The withdrawal from MUCC is effective immediately, Merwin White, club president, reported.

In other business Thursday night the club objected to reported use of prison labor at the State Fish Hatchery near Thompson, and directed club officials to register a protest with the state Civil Service director and with Gerald Eddy, director of the state conservation department.

Members stated three part-time employees at the hatchery were recently laid off, yet prison labor is used. They pointed out that their understanding of prison labor regulations was that the convicts would be used on projects where cost would otherwise be prohibitive.

Members also heard reports from Upper Michigan conservation officials praising the work of E. J. Doyle, justice of the peace in Manistique. They stated his policies on game cases have been instrumental in reducing the number of violations.

Emeralds End Season With Victory Over Marquette

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Emeralds moved the ball where and when they wanted here last night to drub the Marquette Redmen 48-18 in their final game of the 1954 season.

Featured by the radar place-kicking of Bob Corson, Coach Dick Bonifas' Emeralds marched to a 41-6 lead in three quarters of action and then the reserves took over to finish it out.

Corson split the uprights on his first five attempts from placement, had the sixth blocked, and then booted the final extra point midway in the fourth quarter.

Anderson Scores Three

Fullback Don Anderson rambled for three Manistique touchdowns, one on a stirring 60-yard punt return. His other scoring runs were for 10 and 1 yards. Reserve Jack Swartstrom scored once in the third period and once in the fourth, Bill Holme tallied in the first quarter and Ed Busch opened scoring in the early minutes of the game.

One of Marquette's consolation TDs was scored on an 85-yard run from scrimmage by Bruce Micklow with a minute remaining in the game. He also scored Marquette's first touchdown in the second period on a 10-yard slant. George Summers tallied the middle Marquette TD from five yards out.

In posting their fifth win against three defeats for the season, the Emeralds moved at will against Marquette's hapless Redmen, who have lost all of their games this season.

Fouled Up Punt

Busch grabbed a fumbled up Marquette punt in the early minutes of the game and ran 30 yards to hit paydirt. The punt hit the back of a Marquette blocker and bounded high into the air before Busch grabbed it. Corson kicked the point.

The Emeralds drove 50 yards for their second touchdown with Holme cracking over from the one-yard stripe and Corson kicking the point to make it 14-0.

Holme intercepted a pass by Willard Rudness late in the period on his own 36. The Emeralds marched to the 10 from where Anderson crashed through to score. Corson's kick made it 21-0.

The Emeralds lost Busch on a personal foul midway in the second period.

Anderson Returns Punt

Marquette put on a 55-yard drive capped by Micklow who scored from the 10 to cut the gap to 21-6 at halftime.

In the third period Manistique drove the kickoff back from their own 35 and Anderson smashed from the two. Corson's fourth straight conversion made it 28-6.

Anderson gathered in a Marquette punt on the following series of plays and rambled 60 yards through the scattered Redmen defense to make it 34-0. Corson's kick was good, 35-0.

Rudness fumbled for the Redmen and Gerald Graphos recovered for Manistique. Swartstrom raced 44 yards to the Marquette goal line and Corson's placement was nullified by an offside penalty in the fourth quarter.

Micklow's 85-yard run closed scoring in the final minute.

Patterson Wins Easy Decision

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—That Patterson is a jet. Marciano is a bomber. Maybe they'll match me next time with just a plain fighter."

That was Joe Gannon's reaction to Friday night's losing effort against Floyd Patterson, the 19-year-old former Olympic champion in the Madison Square Garden debut of both fighters. Gannon usually is one of Rocky Marciano's sparring partners.

"I didn't know he could hit that hard," said Gannon, a former Washington, D. C. cop. "I couldn't catch my breath from the third round on."

Patterson set a terrific pace, trying to make a hit in the Garden. He moved so fast that he often found himself throwing punches from off balance positions, missing and walking into punches that never should have hit him.

Gathering all his fury into one burst in the last round of the eighth-round bout, Patterson broke Gannon's nose and finally dropped him on his back, draped over the bottom rope, at the final bell.

Former Tiger Hurler Whitehill Is Dead

OMAHA (AP)—Earl Whitehill, a gifted lefthander who won 218 games in his major league career from 1923 to 1939, died Friday night.

The 54-year-old pitcher, who had been a sporting goods salesman since winding up his baseball career, was hurt in a two-car crash in Omaha last Saturday.

Whitehill pitched for Detroit, Washington and Cleveland in the American League and for Chicago in the National League.

Badgers, Buckeyes In Feature Clash

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin and by a total of 11 points. Ohio State, ranked second and fourth in the nation, respectively, meet at Columbus today in a game that could go a long way in determining the Big Ten champion.

While the Badgers and Buckeyes decide who's best, Minnesota and Michigan clash at Ann Arbor. The team winning the Jug will move alongside the victor of the Wisconsin-Ohio State game in line for championship honors.

Of the four teams, only Michigan has tasted defeat and that was in non-conference play.

Purdue must beat Michigan a State to maintain its title hopes. Michigan State, on the other hand, needs a victory to make its 1-3 record more respectable. The Spartans' three defeats have been

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

When Central tangles with Munising this afternoon it will mark the first time Coach Tom St. Germain has seen his grididers in action against the Mustangs since 1952 . . . Last season he was in St. Francis Hospital after an emergency appendix operation when his St. Joe Trojans played Munising . . . The Mustangs won the game.

It's strange that Iron River, the top team in the Upper Peninsula, has no football field . . . The Redskins travel to nearby Stambaugh to play all their home games . . . And they practice at a makeshift gridiron at the Iron River fairgrounds . . . Doesn't seem to hurt their play any, though.

As far as we know, Escanaba Catholic Central is the only football team in the Upper Peninsula without a nickname . . . Most other newspapers in the Upper Peninsula refer to the Central grididers as the Crusaders, although the name has never been adopted by the school officials . . . And some writers have called them the Saints, which could also be a nickname for their coach, Tom St. Germain.

Joe Milokna, Escanaba Eskymo coach, could very easily start an all-junior football team this season . . . If he did, it would most likely have Lawrence Sauve and Bob DeMars at ends, Bill Ringuette and Carl Beauchamp or Elmer Besson at tackles, Marvin Bryers and Ray Warner at guards, Walt Nelson at center, Bill Bolm at quarterback, Bob Bero and Dale Manske at halfbacks and Dave Vian at fullback . . . Almost all of them see action each weekend, and most of them have had starting assignments at one time or another.

Bill Talbert Lost To U. S. Davis Cup Team

NEW YORK (AP)—A liver ailment will keep Capt. Bill Talbert behind when the U. S. Davis Cup team leaves for Australia Nov. 5, but he is expected to join the team before the cup matches in December.

The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn., which announced Talbert's illness Friday, said it would not name a substitute captain unless the 35-year-old New Yorker is unable to make the trip. Talbert, in a New York hospital, led the U. S. team in Melbourne last year when the Aussies won 3-2.

The U. S. team must play Sweden in the interzone finals at Brisbane Dec. 17-19 with the winner playing Australia in the challenge round Dec. 29-31. With Talbert on the team are Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Hamilo Richardson of Baton Rouge, La.

Sports Roundup

Last minute manipulations which kept the Athletics there were spurred by Philadelphia sports writers, who hustled to interest rich business men in the club and—incidentally—to hold onto their jobs. As one of them said, "Sure, Arnold Johnson is a nice guy, but we'd rather put up with a Roy Mack in Philadelphia than have a nice guy in Kansas City."

Cornell traces its dismal start to the bruises suffered in a pre-season scrimmage with rugged Penn State and says, "Never again."

Besides being the bulwark of the Army and a prime All-America candidate, guard Ralph Chesauskas is one of only two grid Kaydets on the West Point dean's list (the other is signal caller Pete Vann) and the only varsity three-letter man on the squad. He's a hard-slugging outfielder in the spring and a body-checking defenseman in hockey. All this and a Brockton, Mass., neighbor of Rocky Marciano, too.

A New York visitor was Abe Baum, south of the border jeweler who made the natural switch to diamonds by buying the Mexico City Reds of the Veracruz League . . . and brought with him a story of Latin intrigue . . . Seems that Bobby Avila of the Indians didn't buy the Reds as publicized. . . . It was only a story planted by the rival Mexico City Aztecas, who'd like to drive Abe out of business . . . And set up Avila as the puppet owner. . . . So that still leaves the Indians four down to the Giants . . .

The erratic behavior of a former Big Ten coach now in retirement is the gossip of the midwest . . .

The Montreal Alouettes so dominate Canadian Big Four football that Larry Grigg, Oklahoma hero of last year's Orange Bowl victory, suits up only every other week, alternating with ex-Chicago Bear halfback Chuck Hunsinger. . . . The shocker in the midlands is the success of the Wichita Shockers. . . . Denver, under Bob Blackman, is coming up, too, and has a freshman squad which lists only five Coloradans among the 44-15 are from Pennsylvania, eight from Illinois and seven from Texas.

You can gauge Fordham's football problems by the fact that there are only two Pennsylvanians on the once loaded Ram roster . . . Those two are end Andy Naccelli and guard Dick Algatt, the finest players on the team . . .

The best "unknown" tackle in America is Wake Forest's Bob Bartholomew, who obliterated the Maryland running game and once, with South Carolina on the Deacons' one-yard line, first and goal to go, made four straight tackles to stop the score. . . . Leo Nomellini of the San Francisco 49ers still insists that 60 minutes of grappling takes more out of him than 60 minutes of football. . . . It was Yale's Albie Booth who inspired the "mousetrapp" term a quarter of a century ago when a Dartmouth coach said, "The Els use Albie like he was cheese for a trap—letting the defense charge through to nail him, then racking them up from the side before they reach the ball." . . .

Saxton Will Be Fighting Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Saxton, the new welterweight champion of the world is going to be a fighting titleholder, his manager said today—but just who his first opponent will be still is not certain.

"Maybe we will go to the coast to box Ramon Fuentes over the weight," said Saxton's pilot, Frank Palmero. "After that, maybe Carmen Basilio. First, let us get used to having the title. My boy wants to be a fighting champion. You will see a better fighter next time."

The fact that Saxton promises to be a fighting champion was greeted with something less than enthusiastic response in boxing circles after his performance last Wednesday when he won the title from Kid Gavilan.

Philadelphia, scene of the fight, wants no part of it. Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission said he would not recognize a rematch as a championship fight.

Saxton has one title defense lined up. That would take place in Syracuse, N. Y., against Carmen Basilio, the home-grown fighter, who rated the first crack at Gavilan's title anyhow. The International Boxing Club probably will co-sponsor it with Norman Rothchild, a Syracuse promoter.

Christenberry said he would "not recognize any title match between Saxton and anybody else except Basilio," adding that he'd like to have the match staged within 90 days.

QUESTION: The safety man catches a punt, tumbles in mid-air as he is hit. If the kicking team's end, coming down to make a tackle, grabs the ball before it touches the ground, can he run with it? Can he run with it after the ball touches the ground?—Henry Georgetti.

ANSWER: He can run with the ball if he grabbed it before it touched the ground. Otherwise it is the same as a recovered fumble. It is the kicking team's ball at the spot its man fell on the ball.

Q. Is there any limit on the number of linemen allowed to pull out and lead interference?—Bob Russell.

President Backs Health Insurance

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower, winding up a two-day visit to New York, has sounded new appeals for enactment of his health reinsurance program and for election of another Republican Congress.

In the final address of his New York visit, the chief executive declared Thursday night his program for expansion of the nation's voluntary health insurance plans, pigeonholed by the Republican-controlled Congress last July 13, is "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

Speaking to 2,000 persons, who paid $100 each to charity at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Eisenhower said the program will be resubmitted to the new Congress convening in January.

Under the program the government would underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and nonprofit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

The President will pick up the political trail again Saturday at an outdoor luncheon at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to promote the candidacies of Pennsylvania Re-seats and state office.

Professor Accused Of Teaching Girls To Drink And Spoon

NARA, Japan (AP) — Women students at Nara University have accused a professor of teaching them to drink whisky and "make love" behind closed doors, the Asahi Evening News reported.

Asahi said 400 women students at the university called for ouster of Prof. Magoshiro Abe on charges of immoral conduct.

The ceds said the 45-year-old psychology professor had offered better grades in return for their favors.

Professor Abe called the charges "ridiculous."

State Fair Shows Profit Of $12,363

DETROIT (AP) — This year's Michigan State Fair will show a profit of $12,363, General Manager James M. Hare said in a preliminary financial report Thursday.

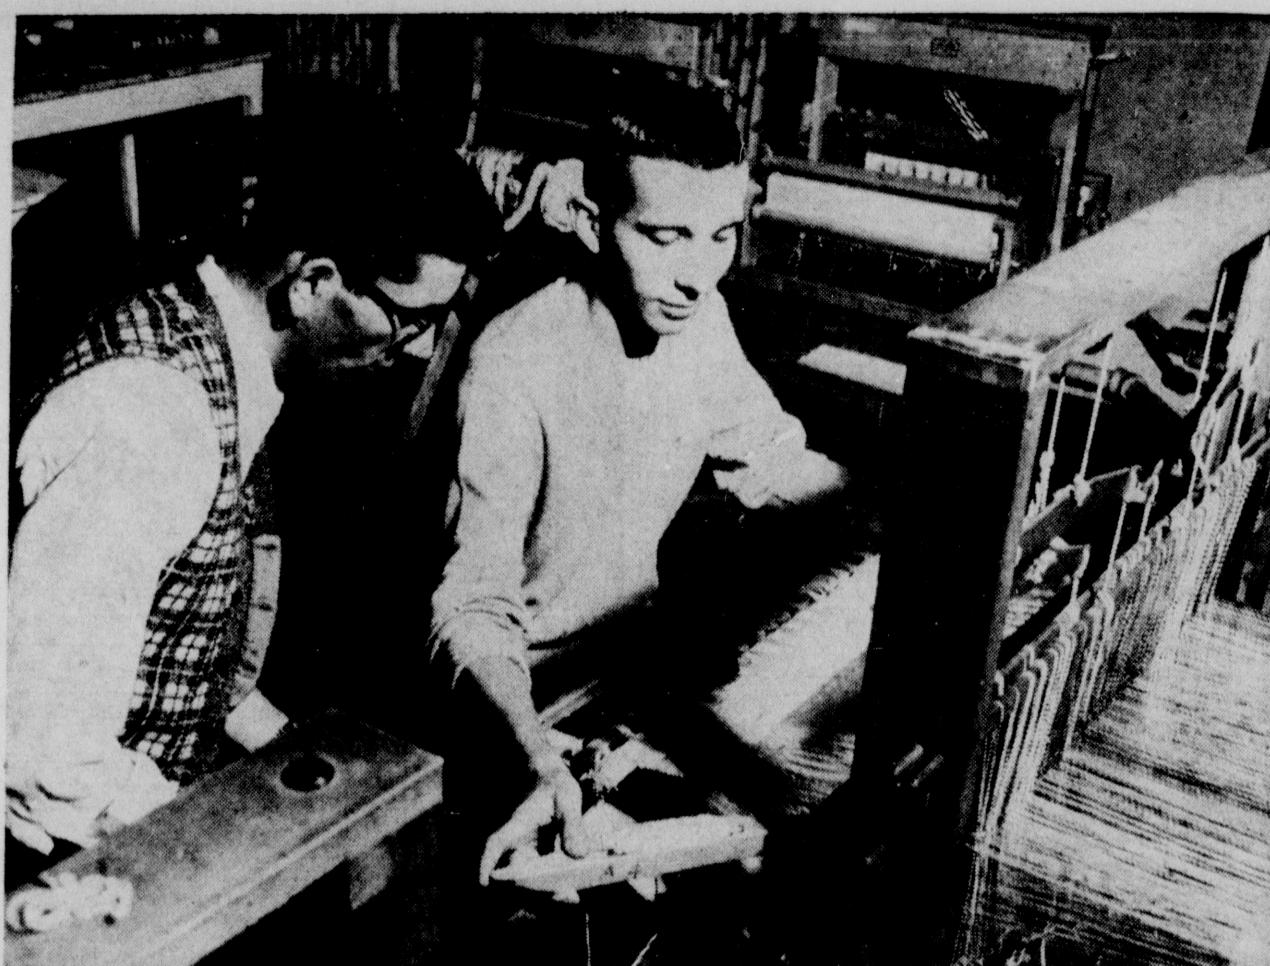

It will be the second successive year the fair has shown a profit, Hare said. He said expenses included $112,091 paid in premiums to a record 2,095 exhibitors.

Wolf Bounties Paid

LANSING (AP) — Four wolves, all killed in the Upper Peninsula, were among the predators bountied by the state in September. The Conservation Department said wolves were taken in Alger, Chippewa, Dickinson and Luce counties.

In addition, 832 coyotes, 184 bobcats and 1,052 foxes were bountied. Bounty payments in the month totaled $20,850.

More men would walk the straight and narrow path if their consciences would only wake up.

Jim Dunn continued: "The killer found Angelica with the doll she had removed from the hiding place. The killer saw the money. Perhaps Angelica was defiant. The killer was used to corporal punishment, to inflicting it on others. The killer believed firmly it was easy to get away with murder. The heavy, deadly pieces of pitch were handy. One was snatched from the pile and blows were struck."

Mrs. Oswald's black eyes glinted, but she made no interruption.

"There was time then," Jim went on, "to arrange the accident. Angelica was pulled beneath the elevator, and the heavy weight was raised and dropped on her body."

"Stop it!" Agnes Argyle's voice was hoarse.

"Only one person here fills all the requirements," Jim said. "One person delighted in inflicting corporal punishment, one person wore a bathing suit, still wet from replacing the stones in the creek to stop up the underwater entrance, when we all drove up from The Spires, and one of you at least is acquisitive enough about 'small' things to send over word I was not to catch any of her fish."

Jim wet his lips. He switched his eyes to Philip Stoneman. "In your story, you and Mrs. Hilton had the same idea. The idea of checking to see that the boat had not been used?"

"Right," Philip said. His eyes were watchful.

"Tell me again," Jim demanded.

"I went to the boathouse to check," Philip recited. "Mrs. Hilton was there already; she had had the same idea. She touched the oars to make sure they were wet." He turned suddenly toward the woman. "Remember how I scrubbed your hand with turpentine. Out, out, damned spot, we said."

Jim held his own palm up for inspection. "A part of the stain on her hand was like this one."

"Yes. The hard part to get off. What is it?"

"Pitch," Jim said.

"You—you killed my girl!" Sheriff Agnes' voice was terrible.

Mrs. Hilton backed away from her. "Keep away from me. Nothing can be proved. I want my man."

Agnes laughed again. "Lawyer? You'll need no lawyer."

Mrs. Oswald came away from the phone as Jim and Nancy went through the drawing room.

"I want to know what you're going to do?"

"Report to the proper authorities," Dunn said.

Sheriff Agnes Argyle said, "That's me. I'm the proper authority."

"All right," Jim agreed wearily. "So I've reported to you."

Mrs. Oswald's black eyes snapped. She pulled her withered body even more erect. "You'll hear from me, Mr. Dunn. You won't lose by your actions. Now, if you'll excuse us? There are things to be arranged."

Mrs. Oswald had her hand on Mrs. Kit's arm. "You chose wisely when you chose Mr. Dunn. Now, we must make our plans, Mrs. Peter." There was just enough hesitation to stress her use of that name.

Jim saw the pleasure, the relution, flood over his client's face. She had reached the Carlson inner circle. From the background came a deep sigh of content from Mrs. Gelstrap. Kit said, "Yes, Mrs. Oswald."

The old woman turned to face Agnes Argyle. "And you, Mrs. Toby?" She was uncertain enough to make it a question.

Agnes Argyle shrugged her weary shoulders. "I'll stand by you, Mrs. Oswald."

Jim saw the pleasure, the re-

Girl Takes Over For Drunken Driver But She's Tipsy Too

DETROIT (AP) — Virginia Thompson testified Thursday she took the car keys away from her companion because he was much too drunk to drive.

"That," said Traffic Judge John D. Watts, "was very commendable, but you should have given the keys to a third person."

Then the judge ordered Miss Thompson to sit all day in his court for seven days—for driving while drunk herself. Police had testified she drove across a street corner sidewalk and hit a parked car.

Baby Plays With Gun In Car; Mother Killed

DECATUR (AP) — Mrs. Beverly Lawrence, 21, was fatally shot Thursday night in the discharge of a pistol in a car she was riding in with her husband and 20-month-old child.

State police said the husband, Jack, 22, told them he heard his wife scream and looked around to see the baby holding a pistol he had left on the seat.

Lawrence, a substitute Decatur policeman on duty at the time, said both he and his wife made a grab for the gun and it went off. The bullet tore through Mrs. Lawrence's head.

Third Marriage Fails

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie actress Jane Wyman's third marriage has failed.

Her husband, musical director Fred Karger, has moved out of their home and Miss Wyman says there will be no reconciliation this week.

The actress told newsmen Wednesday: "I've tried to keep this marriage together but it just doesn't seem possible to make it work."

Miss Wyman's other husbands were Myron Futterman and Ronald Reagan. She and Karger were married in Santa Monica in 1952.

and the University of Illinois. The police captured a starling—there was no problem because of the thousands in the cities. The university's Electrical Engineering School strung the bird up by the heels, then cut a tape of its distress call.

Stewart gave this explanation for wanting to get rid of the birds:

"The starlings come in from the corn fields and roost in trees all over Champaign and Urbana. You can hardly take the chance to walk under the trees and if you park your car under a tree over night, you wouldn't recognize it in the morning."

Stewart said residents reported good results. But, he added, he didn't know where the departing birds went.

"We're keeping the distress call on file in case they come back," he said.

Development Bureau Re-elects Officers At Meeting In Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau re-elected Robert B. Sayles, of Newberry, as president Thursday night in closing its 44th annual meeting. Other officers also were re-elected. They are Ben J. Grobaski, L'Anse, and H. James Westcoat, Calumet vice-president; A. J. ## Awful Sound Used To Chase Starlings At Champaign, Ill.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The Urbana community and radio station WDWS have collaborated in an anti-starling campaign involving "the awful sound you ever heard."

For four days the radio station broadcast 15 minutes of a recorded starling distress call, preceded by a few moments of gun shot and other explosion noises. This was done from 5:30 to 5:45 p.m. to make sure the starlings hadn't already gone to sleep on their perches in the community's trees.

Larry Stewart, station manager, Thursday called the program "the awful sound you ever heard."

Radios throughout the twin cities of Champaign-Urbana, home of the University of Illinois, were turned on full blast during the broadcasts.

Many persons placed portable radios in yards or open windows.

Motorists, joining in the community project to rid the cities of the birds, parked under trees in which hundreds of the starlings roosted, and turned on car radio sets. Some listened to the sound on their car radios.
